

Contents

List of Figures	iv
Tabula Gratulatoria	xiii
Introduction: Bronze, the Bronze Age and Bronzization	xiv
Samantha Scott Reiter and Heide W. Nørgaard
Helle Vandkilde – A groundbreaking pioneer in Danish archaeology	xxii
Katrine Balsgaard Juul
 Part 1: A Globalised Bronze Age – theoretical reflections on the concept of bronzization
Chapter 1: Written in blood? An exploration of the possibility of European Identity in the Bronze Age through examination of political habitus , origin myth, material culture, economics, mobility, aDNA, and linguistics	3
Samantha S. Reiter
Chapter 2: Bronze times, bronze minds: Thinking about ‘Bronzization’	18
Laura Ahlqvist
Chapter 3: Local practices and global processes: Cornwall in the Bronze Age world	28
Catherine J. Frieman
Chapter 4: Shaft Grave period Greece in the interconnected world of Bronze Age Europe: The need for a ‘glocalized’ perspective	40
Joseph Maran
Chapter 5: Did the Egtved girl feel homesick? Reflections on the unanswerable questions to the Bronze Age	50
Marie-Louise Stig Sørensen
Chapter 6: Coping with crisis: diverging economic and social trajectories in the Nordic Bronze Age	57
Kristian Kristiansen
 Part 2: A Mobile Bronze Age – the Archaeological and Scientific Evidence of Mobility
Chapter 7: Bronzization and the people: Bioarchaeological perspectives on Bronze Age individuals and populations in Southern Sweden	65
Anna Tornberg
Chapter 8: Nothing comes from nowhere. A discussion of the European Bronze Age’s cross-cultural communication, transfer of knowledge and trans-cultural artefacts	78
Paulina Suchowska-Ducke
Chapter 9: Late Bronze Age ‘Horsification’ connects south Scandinavia, Italy, and Greece	92
Flemming Kaul

Chapter 10: Bronze Age Russia: cultural receptivity and identity in the Yamnaya and Catacomb communities of the Lower Don region	108
Dalia Pokutta, Dmitry Zenyuk, Kerstin Lidén

Chapter 11: A network of watercrafts: New perspectives on the Bronze Age boat from Varpelev, Denmark	128
Ole Thirup Kastholm and Morten Ravn

Chapter 12: Narrating mobility and marital practices in the Early Bronze Age	141
Philipp W. Stockhammer

Part 3: Bronzification

Chapter 13: On the diffusion of technological knowledge in prehistory	153
Svend Hansen

Chapter 14: The Copper Age in the western Baltic	165
Anne Birgitte Gebauer, Mads Lou Bendtsen and Lasse Vilien Sørensen

Chapter 15: How the ‘bronzification’ of Scandinavia happened: From travelling bronze smiths to communities of practice	179
Lene Melheim and Heide W. Nørgaard

Chapter 16: Gilded Bronze Networks? The golden artefacts from Arildskov Boest, Denmark	194
Constanze Rassmann

Chapter 17a: The Nuragic civilization (1800-720 BCE): a fascinating Bronze Age culture in the middle of the Mediterranean Sea	204
Valentina Matta

Chapter 17b: Reflections on four Sardinian bronzes	210
Søren Dietz

Chapter 18: Bronze to Scandinavia.....	217
Heide W. Nørgaard, Johan Ling, Daniel Berger, Ernst Pernicka, Zofia Stos Gale, Lene Melheim

Part 4: The Coded Bronze Age – Society, Value and Worldview

Chapter 19: Take me to your leader: Authority and inequality in Late Bronze Age Britain	241
Mike Parker Pearson

Chapter 20: Gender as material expression in the Early and Late Bronze Age compared	253
Louise Felding

Chapter 21: What bronze can’t buy? The morality and ethics of metalwork destruction and deposition in Bronze Age Britain	267
Neil Wilkin

Chapter 22: Fragmenting metalwork in Late Bronze Age Europe – a secondary products revolution?.....	283
Anna Sörman

Chapter 23: Images and numbers – Who are the anthropomorphic figures depicted in Nordic Bronze Age rock art?	296
Christian Horn

Chapter 24: The prince and the myth of the serpent – Some new thoughts on the origin of Nordic Bronze Age mythology within the Nebra hoard	313
Harald Meller

Part 5: The Lived Bronze Age – of Settlements and Burials

Chapter 25: Burial mounds and the social practices of the Central European Early Bronze Age	325
Johannes Müller and Janusz Czebreszuk

Chapter 26: Mound durée: a manifestation of a timeless aristocratic ethos?	333
Casper Sørensen

Chapter 27: Burning flames – more than barrow building	349
Jutta Kneisel

Chapter 28: Sampling at Lista, Norway: Inconspicuous fragments of large-scale agrarian history	365
Christopher Prescott

Chapter 29: From architectural experiments to timber-consuming monuments: The changing building traditions at the dawn of the Nordic Bronze Age	376
Silja Arnfríðardóttir Christensen and Martin Egelund Poulsen

Chapter 30: The end of an era: a village from the end of the Bronze Age	385
Tobias Torfing, Anna Thusgaard Kristensen and Jesper Olsen	